If you know who I am, you know what I want..

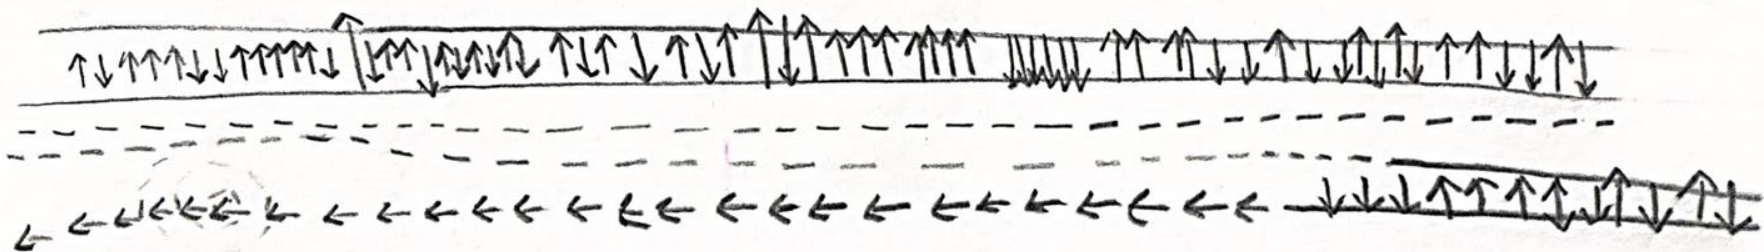

I keep having questions from a distant childhood, very many of them.. – though answers turned to be a lot that they even vary. My subconscious and I do constantly work by instinctually realizing the urge to find answers.. those which constantly swirl and spin those that are sometimes lost in infinity or those sometimes even repeat themselves.

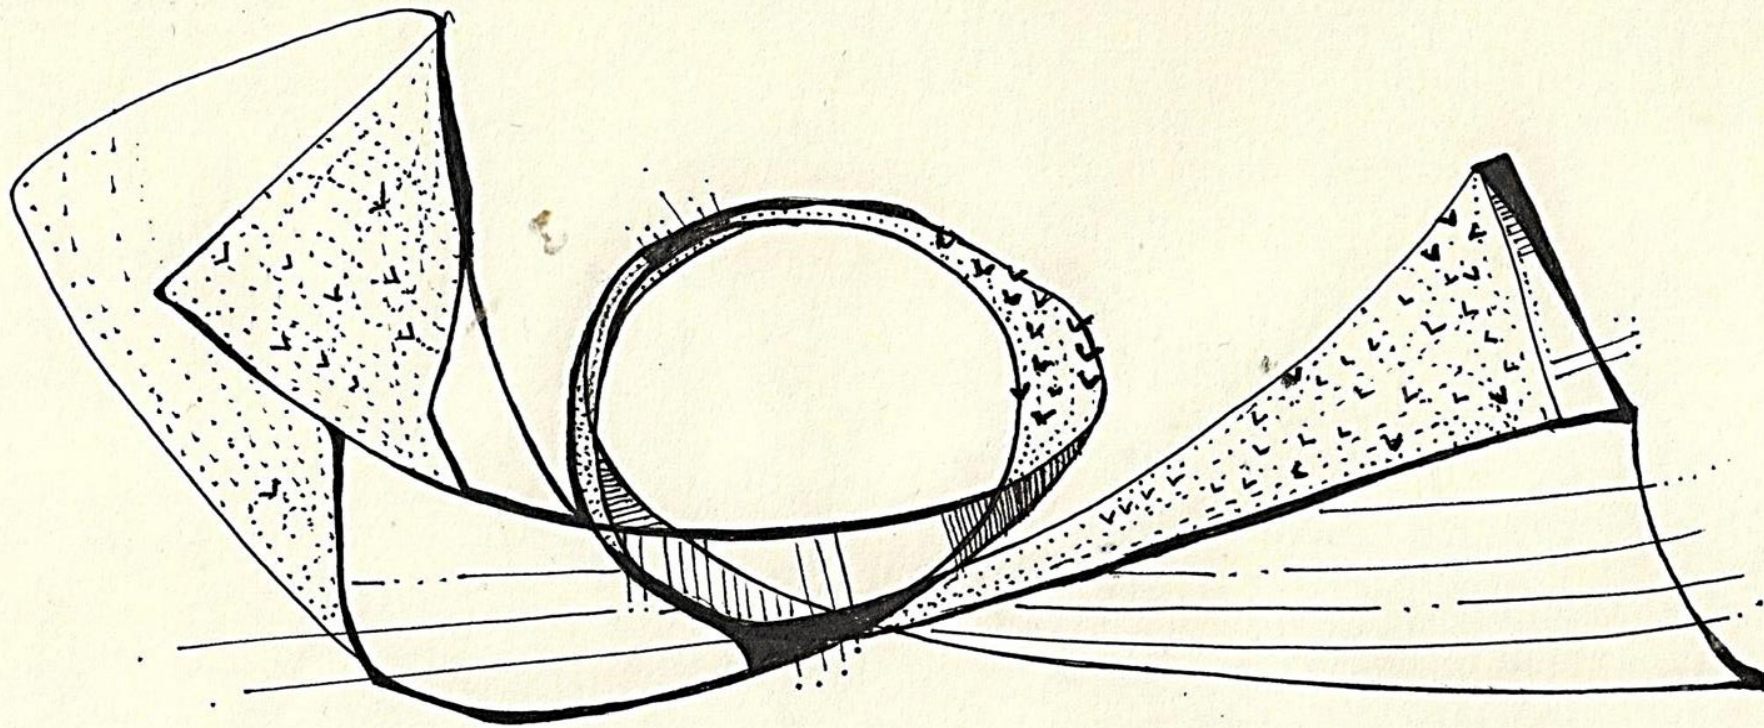

At this point, my inspiration lies in a such chaos – the chaos that helps finding answers..
